In the Spirit of Truth

By embracing reflective thought, an individual gains a deeper perspective on life. As it helps cultivate a mindset that is open to exploring the darker aspects of human nature. The more open one is to examining decisions of everyday life. Helps to provide a sense of clarity on the murkier aspects of existence. Through conscious refinement, life's numerous setbacks can be seen in a different light. So long as the mind is flexible enough to recognize a need for change; and is prepared to take the necessary steps. Regardless of circumstances, a firm commitment to the goal serves as primary motivation. As it reinforces a mindset, that is necessary to integrate new ways of thinking. A strong sense of conviction, serving as a firm foundation one can build upon. The act of creation itself, a reflection of the work undertaken in silence.

With each attempt, carving a new inroad into the mind's terrain. In search of the elusive nature of truth. A quiet whisper of intuition, serving as one's only guide. That which emerges from the shadowy depths, shedding light upon hidden aspects of the higher self. An awakened spirit of truth dissolving the deceptive cloak of lies. That has only served to blind humanity to a problem that needs to be addressed. Given that liberty can't exist within the same framework as oppression. At some point, an individual will have to make a choice. As it becomes crystal clear, that change is unavoidable. For the discomfort of clinging to the ways of old, outweigh the benefits of embracing the new. A decisive shift in thinking, being the first step towards embodying the positive traits that spring from change. So long as one's mind is flexible enough to work with the element of change.

To openly surrender the illusion of control, for the sake of embracing that which is true. A task that will no doubt test the resolve of each individual. Given how prevalent the nature of deception can be in this world. An unspoken truth, each of us knows to be valid. Though it goes against the grain of social conditioning. Since it challenges the notion of everything, we have been raised to believe. For this reason alone, truth is concealed from the public eye. As the eager pursuit of it often comes at a cost. A price that most individuals are unwilling to pay. Given the sacrifice, one will be required to make. To attain a deeper understanding of life's profound mysteries. For the purposes of one's inner development; and the greater wisdom of humanity. Regardless of personal beliefs, and the lense through which one views the world. Since every ember of truth, yearns for eager minds to share them far and wide.
